Announcement is made in The Alberta that "A Blaimore citizen" hauling waste for the town requested the council for payment of 7 1/2 cents per load extra, claiming his box was larger than those of other men hauling. A councillor opined that while the box might be larger, the loads were not—which brings to mind the philosophy that it is not what a person can, but what he does do that counts.

STAGE ATTRACTION COMING TO COLE'S THEATRE

The Martin Sisters, Peggie and Alene, aged 12 and 14 years, who are to appear on the stage at Cole's theatre on Friday and Saturday, August 3rd and 4th, are finished artists.

These girls started their training at the age of three, making their first stage and radio appearance at the age of five. Since that time they have played most important theatres and radio stations throughout Canada and the United States.

Last season they were featured with the Pancho Marco circuit, and most of their radio work was done from Los Angeles.

These clever young artists will play nine instruments, including saxophones, trumpets and clarinets, and will also be heard in vocal numbers.

Their selections are well chosen to please all types of audiences. This should prove a novel attraction to all who enjoy good entertainment.

When you have heard them at Cole's theatre you will want to dance to their music in the Oddfellows' hall at Bellevue, at the dance sponsored by the Bellevue Baseball Club, on Monday, August 6th.

Members of the Bannerman family, including Mrs. F. McNeill and her sister, Katie, passed through Blaimore on Friday last from Saskatchewan, enroute on a motor holiday trip to the Pacific coast. They stopped off in Blaimore long enough to meet a few friends.

Following is the all-star Crows' Next Pass team to play the Lethbridge Miners in exhibition football tomorrow at 5:30: goal, Makin (Hillcrest), backs, Evans (Bellevue) and Kemp (Blaimore); half backs, Lawrence (Hillcrest), Anderson (Coleman) and Dowson (Bellevue); forwards, D'Ercole (Hillcrest), Gray (Blaimore), Gove (Blaimore), Daniels (Hillcrest) and Brown (Coleman); reserves, Richards (Hillcrest), Cole (Bellevue) and Vejprava (Blaimore).

SEPTUPLETS IN CHINA ECLIPSE DIONNE BABIES

Eclipsing the Dionne quintuplets, who have brought so much fame to Ontario, are "septuplets," six boys and a girl, born in Canton, China, a month or more ago, news of which Henry Humphreys, Lakes Road, received by letter on Monday from a friend in Hong Kong.

There is rejoicing over this event in China, as it is considered very great "joss," or luck, to have many more sons than daughters' born, and the boys are regarded as six stars, the girl as the moon.

All seven are doing well, the letter stated.

This case is probably the correct version of what was reported in the daily press recently as the birth of "octuplets" in China, seven boys and a girl, over which happy ones Duncan Chinnamen have been expressing their joy and pride.—Cowan Leader, Duncan, B.C.

FRIENDS PAY CALL ON EX-PREMIER BROWNLEE

Pincher Creek, July 23.—A fine gesture of goodwill and appreciation was tendered to ex-premier J. E. Brownlee and Mrs. Brownlee on Sunday afternoon, July 22, when over one hundred friends gathered at the E. G. Cook ranch to pay an informal visit. A picnic supper was spread on the lawn following the pleasantly spent afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Brownlee and sons Jack and Allan arrived on the 8th, and have enjoyed their holiday on the Cook foothills ranch. They expect to leave for Edmonton on the 24th, when Mr. Brownlee will go east on a business trip.

M. E. Fuller, of the Riverside Iron Works' staff, Calgary, was a holiday visitor here this week. During his stay, Milo had the pleasure of whipping the waters of Race Horse Creek and Castle River.

Sandy was learning to play the bagpipes. One night, while he was strutting about the room, skirling for all he was worth, his wife attempted a mild protest. "That's an awful noise ye're making," she said. Sandy sat down and took off his boots, then got up and resumed his piping in his stocking feet.

With the publication of Summary Report, 1933 Part B, by the Bureau of Economic Geology, Department of Mines, Ottawa, complete geological information is available on two important coal areas of western Canada, the Michel in British Columbia and the Coleman South, in Alberta. Publication of the report also brings to light many features of economic interest in respect to the buff and white-burning clays of southern Saskatchewan. The two coal areas were examined and geologically mapped on a scale of one inch to 800 feet by the department during the 1933 field season.

In addition to the present report, hand colored geological maps, and a transparent colored celluloid structure section model of each area have been furnished the two operating companies, to be used as a convenient means of determining structural features. The models show, on a natural scale, the underground structure of the formations and coal seams and the extent of mine workings. The Michel coal area, the most important in western Canada, has been under development by the Crows' Next Pass Coal Company for the past thirty-five years. Characterized by numerous thick deposits of high quality bituminous coal, the area, aided by Dominion Government subventions, has become an important supplier of coal to the Winnipeg market. The Coleman South area has been under development since 1903 by the International Coal and Coke Company.

A PUBLIC TRIBUTE

Merchants, companies and enterprising individuals long ago discovered that advertising brings steady and sure returns when intelligently presented, and of late years governments have been experimenting in the same direction with gratifying results, says the Montreal Gazette. During the war, advertising was largely responsible in Canada for the success of huge loans, the people being made familiar with the needs and the conditions, with the result that they responded to an astonishing extent.

In Great Britain today, government institutions have been turning to advertising, with profit to the state and benefit to the people. Sir Kingsley Wood, the postmaster general, is the latest high official to pay tribute to advertising. He was called upon a few evenings ago to propose the principal toast at the banquet of the Advertising Association at Leicester, and in the course of his remarks stated that much of the recent record increase of business at the Post Office had been due to extensive and consistent advertising. About two and a half years ago, he said, the Post Office first utilized the newspapers, and the first thing they found was that the public did read the advertisements and assimilate their contents. The advertising campaign was launched under depressing economic conditions, and the lesson was then learned that advertising was as necessary and as valuable in bad times as in good. When other countries had suffered very heavy losses in telephone stations, Great Britain not only maintained its number of subscribers, but increased them.

Speaking on advertising generally, the postmaster-general stated that, in the depression, firms which sold their goods by advertising were bigger today than in pre-war times. It was essential that goods should be represented and of a nature to suit the public demand. If the advertising was honest, repeat orders came. Britain should more and more call advertising into its service to project across the world the soundness of British goods. As for the Post Office, a new telephone drive was to be undertaken, and said the speaker, "we shall again fully utilize the valuable medium of newspaper advertising." Sir Kingsley is convinced of the value of honest and persistent advertising, and his testimony is all the more valuable in that he is an unbiased witness. He has discovered that advertising pays, and pays well, in public as in private business.

Joe Davis and family, accompanied by a couple of friends, motored to town over the week end from Magrath, via Waterton. After spending a couple of days with Mr. and Mrs. H. Upham, they returned home.

Mr. and Mrs. Rico Miglierina and family had as their guests all last week Mrs. Miglierina's parents and sister, Mr. and Mrs. S. Mafoili and Mrs. Celli, of Fernie, B.C., also Mrs. Pozzi and son Joe, of Blaimore.—Drumheller Mail.

British Columbia has elected another woman to the provincial legislature. Women have been in politics in Canada for a number of years. Much was expected of them when equal suffrage was finally granted. Liquor, it was said, would remain outlawed, child labor abolished, education advanced, causes responsible for crime investigated, social wrongs corrected. But in actual campaigns the women fell into step with their men folks in most instances, voted the same ticket, were content with the same results. The granting of the suffrage to women has not improved the tenor of provincial or federal politics, despite all the ballyhoo to the contrary.—Cranbrook Courier.

THE LATEST BRAIN WAVE

The following to the average reader must sound like an attempt at intimidation. It has been circulated in town over the signature of "The Mayor, Town of Blaimore."

"Notice to Residents of Blaimore: Should there be a judgement against the Town of Blaimore, in the case of S. G. Bannan versus the Town of Blaimore, the light department will be indebted to the amount of the judgement, thereby causing an increase of 100% in the cost of light until such time as indebtedness is paid off. Now is the time for all light users to do their 'SQUAWKING', not after."

MAKE HOMESTEADERS PRESERVE TREES

Consideration is being given by the provincial government to enactment of regulations compelling homesteaders to retain on their land a portion of the natural timber, according to Premier R. G. Reid. This work will be in line with the general reforestation policies adopted by the premier when he took over the then newly-formed lands and mines department in 1930.

Miss Evelyn Olivier, L.A.B., has been successful in securing further honors, having passed the A.T.C.M. examinations (teacher's and performer's combined course) with first-class honors. Frank Clark, of Erickson, has passed the primary grade of examination of Toronto Conservatory with first-class honors. Frank is a pupil of Miss Dorothy Olivier.—Creston Review.

Near Jasper Lodge, a few days ago, a man, coming and going, a farmer, held up a tree, and carefully dragged a ten-foot poplar tree down the bank, across the road and into Lake Beauvert. He cared nothing for cars nor people, his one thought being to get that toothsome meal into the lake and enjoy a feast. He got on a stone and posed for numerous delighted visitors while he gorged himself; then, sliding into the water again, he ferried the tree in the direction of his home.

Every man knows—or ought to—that when he attempts operation of a motor car at a time when he is under influence of liquor, he becomes a source of danger to others on the road and thus invites the prosecution which the law says should be visited upon him. No man should welch when jacked up for driving recklessly.—Ex.

Lethbridge miners and their families and friends will arrive here by special train tomorrow morning. We understand they will occupy the athletic stadium for the day, where a general programme of sports will be carried out, in which miners families of The Pass will take part. The local mine will be idle for the day. It is expected that upwards of 1500 will come in by the special train, which should be augmented by at least two or three thousand here. The train is due to arrive shortly after 10 o'clock.

Character Makes The Man

In a little magazine sent regularly to the writer of this column through the courtesy and generosity of a friend, and which we always read with pleasure and profit, and from which we frequently quote, there recently appeared a short article that is both timely and worthy of consideration in these rather troublous days when we are inclined to place responsibility for all our ills upon governments, institutions, systems,—in fact, upon anything and everything except our own human frailties. The magazine article referred to reads as follows:

"Most of the ingenious schemes for making this a better world fall down because they assume that man is an angelic creature who would dance singing through the streets, with garlands in his hair, if only the chains of circumstance could be stricken from him. The trouble is that man isn't an angelic creature. He can be about the most ornery member of the animal kingdom. When he's mean, he makes the sabre-toothed tiger look like a domesticated tabby; and for ruthlessness he can bring blushes to the cheeks of a cobra. On the other hand, it's just as big a mistake to assume that man is all mean. He rises just as high as he falls. Nothing in the jungle can match him for courage and self-sacrifice. If he can be a beast, he can also be like those gentlemen who stood on the deck of the doomed 'Titanic', singing in the face of death. As Byron said, he is 'half dust, half deity'."

For many years, almost a century in fact, the best accepted idea in all democratically governed countries that education was the royal road to sweetness and light. Practically no one questioned it. Laws were enacted making education compulsory, and more and more money was cheerfully poured into the providing of free education for all children, always in the belief that when people are educated, a golden age would dawn. People in all our so-called civilized countries are now fairly well educated, in the accepted meaning of that term, but the golden age has not arrived. Apparently, good and splendid as it undoubtedly is, education in itself is not the miracle-worker it was supposed to be. And the trouble is that we have confused book-learning with education, and have set such store on knowledge of facts that we have forgotten about character.

With many sincere people the tendency now is to rely on legislation to accomplish all the reforms which religion and education have failed to bring about in our human relationships. Even some clergymen apparently believe that both education and the church have failed to develop human character and thus eradicate selfishness, meanness and dishonesty, but that where these powerful agencies have failed, parliaments and legislatures can succeed through the enactment and enforcement of man-made laws and governmental administration of purely man-made social and economic systems. This is a wholly false conception, and if our schools, colleges and churches should ever act upon it they would learn how too late how serious a mistake they had made.

Recognizing the truth of Byron's observation that man is half dust, half deity, the function of the church and of all forms of religion is to cultivate and develop the deity in man and thus seek to overcome the selfishness and meanness inherent in human nature, to inculcate the true principles of life and living, to teach the beauty, the joy, the happiness of true Christian living; in a word, to build up character.

And the function of schools and teachers supported as they are by the State is the counterpart of the church. It is not merely to impart knowledge but to so train the human intellect and develop man's reasoning powers as to enable him to think clearly, choose wisely, act with discernment and discretion and thereby attain to a full realization not only of his own rights and privileges but to a full appreciation of the rights and privileges of his fellow men, and of his own obligations to society as a whole; in a word to live as an intelligent, informed man of character should live.

Parliaments and legislatures have large and important duties to discharge, but under our democratic systems these legislative and administrative bodies will be thereby inclined to be, but a reflection of the views and opinions of the people as a whole. Thus churches and schools through the discharge of their accepted functions by raising the standard of intelligence and in the development of character, thus building up personal character and higher standards in thought and living, will beneficially affect all legislation and all administration. Much more of a permanently beneficial character can be effected in this way than by the definite commitment of churches and schools to any particular set of political policies, social reforms, or economic systems in a rapidly changing world.

If the people themselves are right, if they are men and women of character and conviction, if they are educated and intelligent, unselfish, honest and God-fearing, parliaments and legislatures, and the acts of these bodies, will be a reflection of their own character and conviction, but the people of any nation are not of this type, neither will their governments be, and all the propaganda of churches and schools will not make them so.

If we would improve our institutions and systems and governments, we must bring about a steady improvement in people themselves, and in the bringing about of such improvement lies the first and paramount duty of our churches and educational institutions.

Kindness Was Rewarded

Mechanic Saved Scottish Officer's Life And Received Legacy

A friendship originating in a shell-hole somewhere in France in 1918 has resulted in William Mintz, a muster mechanic, receiving word of a legacy of 250,000 dollars (about $50,000), says a Toronto report quoted by Reuter.

The gift is from a 'Scottish officer whose name is not divulged but whose life Mintz saved when both were hurled into a shell hole by the explosion of a bomb. Mintz carried the wounded officer to safety.

Although the two drifted to different parts of the earth they kept up their friendship.—London Daily Sketch.

Diarrhoea, Dysentery, Colic Cramps and Stomach Pains

Prompt treatment with Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry in such cases relieves the pains, checks the looseness of the bowels, and thus does away with the suffering, the weakness, and oftentimes the collapse associated with attacks of this kind.

It does this by checking the too frequent and irritating action, settling the stomach, and bracing up the weakened system, thus making it a remedy for the treatment of bowel complaints of both young and old.

Buys Decrepit Horses

Englishwoman Has Carried On Work For Twenty Years

Known only as the "Horse's Friend", a woman in Edmonton, England, has bought thousands of old horses and ponies and sold wild ponies and had them slaughtered humanely to prevent them from falling into the hands of dealers and worked under cruel conditions. At Barnet Fair recently she bought 90 animals; this year she has purchased 850. The woman, who insists on remaining anonymous, has carried on her work for 20 years. She is assisted financially in her efforts by a few friends.

Using Things Aright

Good things may turn to evil if the hands that receive them are not ready to use them aright. Wealth and power are all right in their place, but they become the very reverse of blessing not only to the receiver but to use them, but also to others around him. Doubtless the reason for many ungranted prayers lies in the fact that we ask for gifts by which we could not profit.

A few centuries ago, the word "idiot" was used to designate a "private citizen."

An Era Of Suspicion

Difficulties In The Way Of Achieving Universal Peace

In the world as it is to-day—to a greater extent even than in the days when Lord Meath and Lord Milner surveyed it,—there are overwhelming difficulties in achieving anything like universal peace and freedom. For the moment an era of suspicious nationalism seems to make that ideal more remote than ever. But unquestionably the way to attain it lies through the gradual grouping of such nations as are prepared to work and trade together and to live at peace for all time with one another; and the one group ready formed for this great purpose,—bound by all the ties of history, tradition and complementary requirements,—is the existing group of the British nations and dependencies. To dispathe so vast a potential force for good would be something worse than folly. To disparage it, as some of our Socialists are fond of doing, is to stultify their own professions. Surely the whole purpose of British statesmen in every capital of the Empire, whether they are Conservatives or Socialists, manufacturers or farmers, should be to consolidate it, to strengthen it, and to strive to it like-minded lovers of peace wherever they may be found.—London Times.

New York Via Arctic

Proposed Air Route Would Find Favor With Aviators

The polar regions may soon become as familiar to British airmen as the Irish Sea or the Channel are to British seamen. The air-route to the Far East is nearly halved by proceeding via the North Pole. If direct routes are proved the success hoped and expected of it, the 6,000-mile hops between wireless stations at Thorshavn (Faroe Islands), Reykjavik (Iceland), Augsburgsleik on the east coast of Greenland and Godthaab on the west, and Resolution Island at the southern extremity of Baffinland will come into favor with flyers for several well-founded reasons. If it should prove a reliable proposition, to check direction of these sections by wireless, the skilled pilot could contemplate operation along this route in weather which at present would make it hazardous, for he would be largely independent of fog and other forms of bad visibility. Besides, though the length of this route from England to New York is 4,500 miles, and therefore greater than the direct route, a great advantage lies in the fact that it can be divided into 600-mile stages.

Asleep For Two Years

Chicago Girl Shows Signs Of Rousing From Long Slumber

Darting glances from expressive eyes have raised the hope of physicians that Patricia McGuire, the sleeping beauty of Chicago, may soon arouse from her long slumber.

For more than two years the attractive 26-year-old stenographer has been asleep—victim of a strange disease. Medical men have visited her bedside and attempted to find the secret of the ailment.

Patricia's sister and mother said she frequently opens her eyes now and follows them about the room. She is unable to talk or move. Apparently having suffered no serious physical effects, Patricia gained about ten pounds and several days ago her diet—forced feedings are administered—was cut down.

Finding Ready Market

Demand From British Buyers For Canada's Dressed Poultry

Dressed poultry from Canada is finding a ready market in substantial quantities in the British Isles. From January 1 to May 31, 935,500 pounds have been exported, an increase of 537,122 pounds compared with the corresponding period of 1933. Meanwhile the demand from British buyers continues active for the quality of the shipments have met the market requirements in every way, as an announcement from the department of agriculture.

Nearly 150,000,000 pounds of tobacco were grown in China last year, breaking all production records for the world in that country.

New Law Has Teeth

Canada Tightens Up Regulations In Respect To Firearms

One bit of legislation recently passed by Canada's Parliament has not been as prominently played up in the newspapers as its importance would seem to justify.

For years many Canadian papers have stressed the desirability of making it more difficult to secure and to keep revolvers.

The matter has been under discussion at several sessions of parliament and several changes in the law were effected, but it is only now that the Dominion's legislators have passed a measure that seems to possess teeth that can bite.

Henceforth it will not only be necessary for the purchaser of a firearm small enough to be concealed, to obtain a permit for the possession of such a weapon, but the new law provides that every Canadian now in possession of a revolver must register it with the authorities, and there is a further clause that registers of firearms must also report to the police each time a revolver is brought to them for attention.

Owners of weapons will be given a time limit within which they will be required to register their firearms, and after that time there will be a heavy fine in each case of an unregistered revolver being found.

These new regulations are more drastic than anything yet passed at Ottawa, and it is hoped that they will make it less easy for folk to come into possession of firearms.

Swimming And Health

An Exercise That Has Come To The Front As A Valuable Form Of Recreation

A well-known swimming instructor says, "The interest in swimming has been stimulated tremendously and it is now possible for people to indulge in this healthful recreation throughout the year."

Greater indulgence would naturally mean the health of the nation greater. It may also be the means of saving the swimmer and another's life. As an exercise swimming has few exercises with which to be compared. It may be performed to suit all ages and physical conditions of the individual. "The art of swimming has also developed marvelously," states a writer on "Health". In the early days the breast stroke and over-hand stroke were commonly used. The trudgen and single over-arm stroke were next evolved. The writer outlines the methods of swimming and states, "Make up your mind that you will learn or improve." The crawl stroke is the most popular of all swim strokes. Champions all over the world use it and it is fast becoming the stroke for everybody. In explaining the crawl stroke attention is paid to position, breathing and practice. At this time of year swimming can be made easier by the reading of such an article.

Aviator Was Lucky

Glided Nine Miles Without Propeller And Landed Safely

To lose the propeller of the aeroplane he was piloting, glide nine miles without it, and finally to come down into the deep waters of a river and escape unhurt was the experience of Dr. Georges Millette, Montreal surgeon, amateur flyer and medical examiner for Dominion Airway Services.

Shortly after leaving St. Hilaire, Quebec, the propeller of Dr. Millette's plane dropped off. The flying doctor glided for nine miles before falling into the Yamaska river near St. Hyacinthe.

Reaping The Harvest

Far East Has Awakened To Machine Age Era

Europe no longer can exploit the rest of the world as a market, and now, after destroying the civilization of the Orient and India, reaps the harvest, declared Frederick W. Norwood, celebrated preacher of the City Temple, London, England, at Vancouver.

Returning from an extended trip, he said the Far East had awakened to the machine-age era.

In Japan you have a nation that has learned the lessons of western civilization, put them into practice and now is sending back a surplus of machine-made goods," he said.

The missionary was not to be blamed. There were, he recalled, 400 commercial travellers propagating industrial ideas to every single missionary. There, too, were great changes in China and India.

"These people are increasingly conscious of what we have taken from them. We have got to think of humanity; stop putting tags on things and letting it go at that," he concluded.

Canadian Voodooism

Human Credulity Provides One Of The Serious Barriers To Medical Progress

An article in "Health", published by the Canadian Social Hygiene Council, points out the necessity for the general public realizing that many so-called cures are nothing but fakes. The article tells some rather interesting facts about the credulity of people and the wiles of the faker.

The article concludes: "Perhaps it is futile to tell the public about these tragic occurrences, perhaps it is wasting time to ridicule the faker and charlatan. Ethically the doctor can promise no one a cure but these medical gangsters, after getting their money, laugh at the hopeless sufferer from cancer and the dying tuberculosis patient and promise him a cure." Often times neglected cases too late accept the advice of their own surgeons and are handed at the same time a death certificate.

Use Scalding Steam

Warders Well Protected If French Convicts Attempt Mutiny

Scalding steam is always held ready for use on the two hundred and eighty convicts bound for the French penal settlement on French Guiana, which includes Devil's Island, which recently embarked in the convict ship La Martinique at La Rochelle. During the voyage the convicts are kept in cages under the constant surveillance of warders, who, in the event of attempted mutiny, would be able to turn steam on them.

A Clever Idea

German ingenuity has solved the problem of looking over the heads of a crowd without getting a stiff neck. At every big street parade in Berlin now, and there is one almost daily, scores of vendors make their ways through the crowd selling periscopes. With a periscope it is possible to have a front seat even if you are standing in the rear ranks.

Ancient Reptile

Sinuous Creature Which Flapped About Prehistoric Ocean

Officials of the National museum at Ottawa say the two mosasaur specimens unearthed at Morden, Man., by Dominion geologists, were the first complete skeletons of the 60,110,000-year-old reptiles ever found in Canada. Scattered bones were found in Alberta three or four years ago but no complete specimen.

J. M. Steinberg, Dominion government geologist, who has unearthed many dinosaur skeletons in Western Canada will ship the fossilized bones to Ottawa where they will be mounted for display in the museum. Big Aerial Train Hop

After the recent 950-mile flight of a Soviet "aerial train," authorities announced plans for a similar 3,500-mile flight to Samarkand, Central Asia. The train consists of a powerful airplane as "locomotive," and three huge gliders attached to it and each other by cables. The purpose is to test new types of giant gliders and to map a possible air mail and passenger route to Central Asia. The flight is sponsored by the Soviet Civil Air Fleet.

SAYS DEMAND FOR WHEAT WILL TAKE UP SURPLUS

London.—Sir Herbert Robson, president of the London Corn Trade Association, turned his guns on the world wheat advisory commission, warning it again to drop efforts to fix export quotas and set a minimum world price.

The extremely drought, almost general throughout the world, completely upsets all previous calculations and the prospects now are the demand for wheat will take up the potential supply, he said.

Members of the commission, which will resume meetings here next month, immediately rejected Robson's contentions. They pronounced his long statement "the most bullish in years."

Asserting that it is the wish of traders of London, Antwerp, Rotterdam and Liverpool that the commission confine its activity to curtailment of acreage, Robson said, "it seems highly probable that the price of wheat will continue to rise the next few months."

"Already the price of wheat in Canada and United States has become such that some margin of profit ought to be secured by the farmer," Robson retorted the commission of "mentioning" only five per cent. as a satisfactory increase in price in its April report on the minimum price fixing scheme. He said that neither governments nor traders considered this statement to "leave the farmer a reasonable margin of profit."

Robson then cited statistics to establish that what he called the worst drought in 40 years boosted prices 35.5 per cent. from April 19 to July 17 for wheat for delivery at Liverpool in October. In the same period July wheat at Winnipeg went up 29.8 per cent., he said.

He detailed the situation in a letter to the Times. In the United States, he said, the wheat crop "has largely failed. After very large surplus will be barely sufficient to provide a normal carryover at the end of the season. It is quite possible she will have to import Canadian or Argentine wheat."

The Australian crop looked like being a partial failure, yielding 120,000,000 bushels compared with 215,000,000 in 1932-33, he added.

Owing to the drought, Canada would have a poor crop, yielding between 300,000,000 and 320,000,000 bushels, he estimated, with a carry-over of about 180,000,000 bushels, bringing the total to 480,000,000 or 500,000,000 bushels.

And in Argentina, the last of the big four, whose huge shipments in late months upset the international wheat export quota agreement, he foresaw a possibility of some reduction in acreage.

He estimated the probable requirements of Europe and other European countries combined, from overseas, at around 560,000,000 bushels. They would almost certainly be larger than during the current season, he declared.

Against this, Sir Herbert said the great exporting countries might have these surpluses, excluding their normal carry-over: United States, none; Australia, 50,000,000 bushels; Argentina, 140,000,000 bushels; Canada, 350,000,000 bushels; sundries, 20,000,000 bushels.

He added these to balance the expected 560,000,000 import demand by Europe.

Rains Continue In Poland

Flood Toll Mounts And Many Bridges Carried Away

Warsaw.—Floods in southern Poland counted at least 53 victims, mounted as heavy rainfall continued.

Tarnow, at the junction of several rivers, was the latest city threatened.

Two trains of aspers were hurrying with pontoons from Krakow to Stary Sacz, where 17 young men took refuge on a dry peak when a labor camp was invaded by the roaring waters. Communications between Krakow and Lwow were cut and more than 12,000 feet of bridges carried away by the swollen streams.

Seed Officials Meet

Conference Held At Saskatoon Is Well Attended

Saskatoon.—Further standardization of the work of the federal seed branch inspectors in the four Western provinces was accomplished as the result of a three-day conference of all the inspectors from Fort William to the Rocky Mountains which concluded here. Meeting with the federal men were the field men connected with the branch of the Saskatchewan department of agriculture.

The conference took the form of a short refresher course in cereal grains, identification of varieties and variations within varieties and the identification of disease that attack cereal crops.

Work of the conference was directed by Nelson Young, Saskatoon; G. M. Stewart, Calgary; J. E. Blackburn, Winnipeg, district inspectors for the federal seed branch; and by S. H. Vigor, field crops director for the provincial government.

The historical background of plant breeding was outlined by Dr. J. E. Harrington, professor at the University of Saskatchewan, who pointed out the necessity for seed growers to maintain the purity of strains in their plots. Mr. Harrington also spoke upon the identification of varieties of cereals and the separation of any kinds of crosses that might be found in seed grain plots.

He emphasized apparent changes which different environments might cause in varieties, and cautioned the inspectors to take account of these changes in passing judgment upon the purity of the strains grown. He showed how cross pollination of varieties sown too close together might come about, pointing out that the results from crosses of this kind were as disastrous to pure strains as sowing two varieties of seed in the same plot.

Still Paying One-Third

Alberta Making No Change In Direct Relief Costs

Edmonton.—One-third of the direct relief costs will continue to be paid by the province, notwithstanding the action of the Dominion government in cutting to 25 per cent. A decision to this effect was reached at a cabinet council meeting and has been sent to Mayor Knott, of Edmonton, and Mayor Davidson, of Calgary.

No time limit has been set for this rate, to apply. And it will, therefore, continue indefinitely, it is learned from Premier Reid.

Action has also been taken by the government on Edmonton city council's request for a federal loan of $1,000,000 for public works, approving the loan and agreeing to make application for it to Ottawa.

Trade With China

Growing Market For Canadian Products In The Orient

Vancouver.—Trade between Canada and China has fallen off considerably owing to higher tariffs on one side and adverse monetary exchange on the other. Major Victor Duclos, Canadian trade commissioner at Hong Kong, declared on his arrival from the Orient aboard the liner Empress of Canada.

Major Duclos stated there is a growing market in China for Canadian merchandise, but Canadian business men, in order to develop that market, must pay greater attention to its possibilities and keep closely in touch with it.

The trade commissioner left for Ottawa and Montreal.

Prices Remain Steady

Ottawa.—The Dominion bureau of statistics index number of wholesale prices on the base of 1926 equals 100 remained unchanged at 71.9 for the week ending July 13. Grains advanced sharply and livestock averaged higher, but flour, hides, eggs and copper were lower. Since the beginning of June there has been a definite tendency in prices to remain steady at close to current levels.

Confer With Dominions

London.—Conversations between the government of the United Kingdom and the Dominion governments in regard to the projected 1935 naval conference are proceeding through normal channels, the House of Commons was informed by Stanley Baldwin, acting prime minister.

More Cars Produced

Ottawa.—Automobile production in Canada in 1935 amounted to 66,852 cars, with a sales value, f.o.b. plant, of $38,690,463, the Dominion bureau of statistics has announced. This was an increase of 8.3 per cent. in number but only 2 per cent. in value from 1934.

WILL MEET TO DECIDE FATE OF WHEAT PACT

Washington.—Three nations which are parties to the international wheat agreement moved to decide the fate of the compact which seeks to limit world wheat production and raise world prices.

The United States, Australia and Canada, principal exporters of the bread grain, requested that a meeting be held August 14 at London to attempt to reach "a complete understanding" on the agreement for next year. They left the intimation they would seek a show-down on the position of Argentina, fourth principal signatory.

Evidence to support this belief came in the guarded statement of departments of agriculture officials that they were withholding final decision on domestic wheat curtailment plans for next year pending outcome of the August meeting.

In requesting the London meeting next month the three countries, in a joint letter to Andrew Cairns, secretary of the conference, declared they attached utmost importance to maintaining the agreement and would make every effort to continue it.

Participating in the conference were Chester Davis, administrator of the agricultural adjustment administration; Dr. Mordecai Ezekiel, economic adviser to Secretary Henry A. Wallace, of the United States department of agriculture; Dr. C. T. Grant, of the department of agriculture of Canada; C. W. McFarland, manager of the Canadian Wheat Pool; G. E. Wheeler, Paul Nicholas and George Eastbrook, of the United States department of agriculture, and F. E. Murphy, of Minnesota, delegate to the London and Home wheat conferences.

At the London wheat conference, when a world-wide acreage reduction programme was launched, Canada and the United States stood together on most of the reduction programme and it was anticipated that a preliminary plan for the two nations would be worked out.

Wheat Harvested In Alberta

Lethbridge.—Cutting of winter wheat has started on the farm of Frank Wentz at Grassy Lake, about 50 miles east of here. Winter wheat has ripened rapidly under the warm weather of the past week. It will make a fair average crop. Rain would be welcomed for the spring grains show a heavy stand.

Argentina Wants Wheat Export Quota Raised

Agricultural Minister Says Large Crop Makes It Necessary

Buenos Aires.—Argentina's ministry of agriculture proposed that the nation's wheat export quota be raised at next month's international wheat conference to 150,000,000 bushels. At present the quota is 110,000,000 bushels.

A communique by the agricultural minister stated that the abundance of the last crop necessitates a larger export quota to overcome surpluses.

Four proposals to stabilize the world wheat market were definitely rejected by Argentina. They are Argentina's adherence to a minimum price, a limitation of exports the second year by agreement to 108,000,000 bushels, a reduction of seed to regulate yearly exports to 110,000,000 bushels and an agreement to denaturalize wheat exceeding the export quota and domestic consumption.

It was contended the scheme to set a minimum world price for wheat has proved a failure. Denaturalizing of wheat was held to be impractical because the United States and Canada, "the accumulated stocks of which are responsible for the present situation" have not adopted that procedure.

Explorer Thought Lost

Hope Abandoned For Young Britisher Who Attempted To Scale Mount Everest

Darjeeling, India.—Hope has been abandoned for Maurice Wilson, young British flyer officer, who started out on an ambitious attempt to conquer Mount Everest lone-handed.

Wilson flew an aeroplane to India from England with the hope of planting a Union Jack on the summit of Mount Everest. The authorities here vetoed his plans, so he decided to attempt the climb which has yet to be achieved.

Wilson progressed for some days until he established his camp No. 3 high on the slopes. He left his porters there and continued the grim climb alone, taking a small tent, an ice-axe and a quantity of food, with a camera.

He was last sighted high up, nearing the location where he proposed to establish what he called camp No. 5.

His porters now have waited for three weeks without any word from Wilson and they returned to Darjeeling to report their conviction Wilson had lost his life.

Trade Increases

Foreign Trade Showing Slight Increase, Says Geneva Report

Geneva.—The decline in the volume of foreign trade which began some five years ago with the depression, reached bottom in 1933, and a slight increase was noted in the last few months, a general resume of world trade for 1935, issued by the League of Nations economic information service showed.

From 1932 to 1933 the volume of trade declined 10 per cent. by value expressed in gold, or five per cent. by value expressed in sterling.

Increases in 1935 were registered chiefly in raw materials, which increased by eight per cent., and manufactured goods to two per cent.

HEPBURN PAVES WAY TO RECEIVE HUNGER PARADE

Toronto.—Notice was served on the city of Toronto that its police commission must not pursue a policy at variance with that of the Ontario government. In the latest move in the battle between Queen's Park and the city hall, the government removed two members of the Toronto police commission and replaced them by two others.

The new commissioners are expected to rescind the order banning a parade and demonstration of hunger marchers from Ontario centres in Toronto on July 30. Mayor William Stewart, who has been almost continuously in controversy with Premier Mitchell Hepburn since the new Liberal government took office, is ex-officio chairman of the commission. To-day he will find himself flanked on either side by a commissioner appointed by the Liberal government.

"It can hardly be expected," said Hon. Arthur Roebuck, attorney-general, "that appointees of the government shall remain in office while defiantly announcing a procedure openly contrary to the settled policy of the government."

The new commissioners are Frank Denton, K.C., prominent Liberal, and Judge W. T. Lee, of the county court of York. They replace J. R. L. Starr, K.C., and County Judge James Parker.

The city police commission passed an order banning any parade or demonstration of hunger marchers in Toronto when Premier Hepburn was asking provincial police to accord the marchers every courtesy and promising to meet their representatives. When Mayor Stewart heard the premier had promised to appoint an official to confer with city police authorities with a view to co-operation in facilitating the march he accused the government of interfering in city affairs and declared he would uphold the police commission and defend the rights of the city to limit the parade.

The premier and the attorney-general retorted by charging the mayor with attempting to prevent a group of citizens appealing to the government, called him a tyrant and accused him of trying to throttle free speech and set an armed police force on a body of innocent citizens.

The Ontario government will make no grant towards the maintenance of delegates to the proposed hunger march. Hon. David Lewis, minister of welfare, told a committee of the hunger marchers.

UPHEAVAL IN GERMANY CAUSE OF MANY RUMORS

Berlin.—Allegations from abroad that 2,000 Germans have been massacred since the upheaval of June 30, and that prisoners and guards at Dachau concentration camp had been killed off, spread rapidly through Germany, adding to a wealth of rumors.

So far as could be determined they had their basis in mere rumor. The stories were promptly denied, but the conclusion remained in many quarters that the government had not dealt sufficiently frankly with the S.A. revolt.

It was felt that internal changes were under way which for want of explanation led to the spread of the apprehension in such circles as the storm troops.

Stories of "executions within executions" and "killings within killings" in Nazi ranks continued to gain currency.

It was named in many quarters the executioner of Hubert von Bose, Vice-Chancellor Franz von Papen's personal aide, had in turn been executed himself.

This tended to confirm rumors that in numerous cases those who meted out punishment during the bloody events of June 30 were now the victims of further efforts to repress all revolt in Germany.

While the German cabinet prepared to go on a vacation, denying rumors from abroad that Vice-Chancellor Franz von Papen had been involved in a coup d'etat, rumbling thunder of the after-effects of the revolt was becoming more audible.

The government has a number of pressing problems, including the prospects of dwindling food supplies, finances, unemployment relief and the various effects of the heat wave.

There is also evidence considerable internal reorganization is taking place within the party. When told of a report Chancellor Hitler was a virtual prisoner of the retchwehr, one official remarked that in that case he is a "strange prisoner." He referred to the fact the chancellor received the salute of a cavalry regiment at Zossen drill field.

New Arms Treaty

Japanese To Confer With Washington In August

Washington.—Japanese spokesmen will visit Washington next month and will seek, by informal conferences, to prepare for the negotiations to limit Japanese arms limitation treaty in 1935.

These discussions are generally expected to include: An effort by Japan to obtain a new understanding on respective positions and purposes of the Pacific; later to be extended to Great Britain.

Sir Ronald was an associate of Earl Kitchener, played a prominent part in the Arab revolt and who took Lawrence to Arabia.

Text Of Subsidy Bill

London.—The text of the government's bill to aid the domestic cattle industry was issued here, revealing that imported cattle must be in the United Kingdom for a continuous period of at least three months if the subsidy on slaughtered beef cattle is to be paid. WILLIAM ABERHART

William Aberhart's advocacy of the Douglas system of social credit, together with a fervent preaching of a particular religious belief, has brought him widespread provincial fame and a very considerable following of people. At the present time the Calgary high school principal is probably one of the best-known men in Alberta. His theories of money and religion have been accepted by thousands of folks. Mr. Aberhart is probably the most popular lecturer in the province, at least in the rural areas.

Dr. Swanson, professor of economics, University of Saskatchewan, recently warned a gathering of ministers of the gospel against the danger of mixing religion and economics. A good minister is liable to be a poor economist and vice versa. The two professions do not seem to mingle readily, despite the desirability of such a union. But Mr. Aberhart goes even further. He is a school teacher by profession and earns his living as principal of a high school during the week. On Sundays he preaches and has built up a fine congregation, both visible and invisible. His active mind, not content with rendering these services, has plunged into the complex mazes of the monetary world, the result being an aggressive campaign in favor of the Douglas system of social credit.

The strength of mind and the vigorous manner with which Mr. Aberhart probes subjects of interest to him, develops his ideas and proceeds to make converts, is something to be admired. The man has real ability albeit his style of oratory and debate savours of intransigence. No one can dismiss him with a wave of the hand as being inconsequential. Aberhart is a power in Alberta. He is capable of (and liable to) "setting the prairie afire."

The Hanna Herald is not going to discuss Mr. Aberhart's particular brand of teaching or preaching; but we do see a drawback in the involvement of such a man launching himself wholeheartedly into the mazes of the monetary system. The trend, we would suggest, would be to gain adherents by strength of will and force of oratory, rather than through any reasoned process. The desire to evangelize would be uppermost.

Our readings and observations with regard to money lead us to the conclusion that any solution of the problem must take into account the element of human nature more than anything else. It is nothing that money does to us that hurts; it is what we ourselves do to our money—any money. Commodity money, we believe, would work. So would a four-armed man or a three-legged man. But the trouble with man is not the number or kind of his legs or arms. The trouble with him is that he is human and will walk in folly, knowing better, seeing, as the Greeks said, always the better way and always taking the worst.

In times of depression the idea of Satanism in money rises to the pitch of obsession. One who adopts an authoritative attitude on money matters will be inundated with letters and conversation from hundreds of people telling how Satan may be cast out and what terrible things will happen otherwise. Some very intelligent people are perfectly absurd about money.

The Satanism of money consists in this: If money is plentiful enough it is not valuable enough; if it is valuable enough it is not plentiful enough. All schemes of reform, the mad and sane together, propose that money shall be both constantly plentiful and constantly valuable once and forever. Is this feasible? Any kind of money would work in a world in which men were tempted to be wise, temperate and good. But it is a world in which goodness is by moral exertion, and we are tempted only to be bad.

Mr. Aberhart may possibly accomplish more through his preachings and teachings, to rectify the monetary system than through his effort to implant the Douglas system on Alberta's soil. Let human nature be reformed and, we repeat, any kind of money will work perfectly.—Hanna Herald.

ALL-A-SAMEE JUDGE IVES' COURT

In the absence of Judge Webster, who is in Calgary this week attending the bull-fight, and in the absence of Mr. Justice Ives, who is in Vancouver to keep away from such fights, Judge Amundsen, of Claresholm, held court in Staveland Wednesday night to settle the dispute between Harry Chin and Long Luke. In the absence of A. L. Smith, K.C., who is resting up after the effects of the Brownlee trial, Bill Aberhart, K.C., acted for Harry Chin. Long Luke, the accused, defended his own case. According to Bill Aberhart, K.C., Judge Amundsen's verdict was "All-a-samee Judge Ives—damned court I never did see in thirty-one year in Canada. Judge Amundsen he sit up on back of chair in Harry Chin kitchen and believe what clazy man all-a-time say, and no believe what good man say: police-man he sit on 'Kitchen dish-stand and he all-a-time tell-ee Harry Chin "shut-up" when clazy man talk. He all-a-time take Long Luke part. Long Luke he say Harry Chin all-a-time poison him and he die five-six time, and he take one gallon Epsom salt and then come to life high-you quick. He sure high-you clazy talk like that." The verdict of Judge Amundsen did not go down with Harry Chin, who, on the advice of his attorney Bill Aberhart, K.C., left Thursday morning for London, England, to take the case before the privy council. If Harry gets his way, Long Luke will be deported back to China on the grounds of insanity, and Harry is already in touch with Oriental friends in Vancouver to bore a big hole in the bottom of the boat as soon as it strikes deep water.—Staveland Advertiser.

Farmers are feeling quite hopeful here now, with the prospect of a good harvest ahead of them. Fall wheat, which is turning yellow, promises to make a good average yield with other successful years. Spring wheat is nicely headed out and is standing heavy and rank looking in the fields. Old crops and other grains are looking equally good. Haying, which is in full swing, will yield a satisfactory harvest, although this crop was cut short in places on account of the dry weather in the spring.

The annual Castle River Stampede and field day, which proved to be a huge success, was held at the athletic park near the west South Fork bridge on July the 18th. Engineers Meet

Trend Is Unmistakably Towards Better Things, Says Speaker
In the field of engineering the trend is unmistakably toward better things, Harrison P. Eddy, Boston, president of the American Society of Civil Engineers, told that body at the Western professional gathering of the Engineering Institute of Canada when he addressed the opening session of the four-day convention of the two organizations at Vancouver.

"It would be presumptuous for me to comment specifically upon trends of engineering in Canada," said Mr. Eddy, "but I would not be loyal to the Engineering Institute of Canada, of which I have the honor of being a member, if I did not give public recognition to the splendid work which it has done in upholding and advancing the profession."

He suggested more frequent and closer co-operation between the Engineering Institute of Canada and the American Society of Civil Engineers. Civil engineers from all parts of the continent attended the dual convention.

Lives Sacrificed For Speed

Judge Delivers Terrible Indictment Of Motorists In Britain

"The roads of this country are strewn with the dead and dying," said a judge of the high court last week. He spoke advisedly. To the greater glory of the God of Speed 354 lives (the highest recorded holocaust, it would appear) were sacrificed in the last recorded week, and 4,971 persons were injured. Within the last two months more than a thousand have been slaughtered, and the maimed approach forty times that number. In the face of such a record the Minister of Transport's talk of fostering a higher standard of conduct among road-users sounds a feeble irony. War is condemned for its bloodshed, and is made a warrant for every drastic measure. Here is a death-toll unequalled in any but the greatest of our modern wars, and no hurry seems to be felt about bringing it to an end—London Observer.

Where People Are Natural

New York Man Wants To Get Back To Tahiti

A Canadian Press letter says: To J. L. A. McLaughlin, painter-engineer-scientist, New York is a ghostly city of shadows, its streets paced by people wearing masks, attired in homesick, McLaughlin came back from Tahiti, where he went to gather material for a book about the South Seas.

Now he wants to get back in his 40-ton ketch to "where people are themselves." Says he of Tahiti: "There the people wear no masks. Even the whites after several months drop frowns and other facial affectations and become natural—or unnatural, as you prefer."

Little Journeys In Science

THE PLANT FACTORY
(By Gordon H. Guest, M.A.)

Scientists have been attempting for many years to find out how plants manufacture such complex materials as cellulose, starches, sugar fats, proteins and vitamins, and it has been found that every plant contains a little factory in which there is built from the raw materials these products which are so essential to man's existence.

It is in the green leaf that this wonderful process takes place. The raw materials consist of carbon dioxide, water, and minerals from the soil. Carbon dioxide is a gas which occurs in the air to the extent of three to four parts in ten thousand parts of air. This gas enters the leaf through very small openings on the surface. The minerals must be soluble in the water which comes up to the green leaf through the roots and stem from the soil. Chlorophyll, the green coloring matter in plant leaves, plays an important part in this manufacturing process. Sunlight, too, is employed, furnishing the energy which converts the raw materials into compounds such as starch and cellulose. The presence of chlorophyll is always necessary to the process, which is known to scientists as photosynthesis, coming from the Greek words meaning "to build up by means of light."

Directly or indirectly all life is dependent on these minute plant factories. Here the plant produces its own food, and from the factory this food is sent to other parts of the plant for storage. Animals live on plants, and man in turn requires the meat of animals in his diet, thus closely associating man's existence with the stores of food which are built up through the process of photosynthesis. Further, we are dependent on it for wood, coal and oil. On these in turn depend steam power, motor transportation and other important factors in our civilization.

For many years scientists have attempted to duplicate in the laboratory this process which is carried on in the green leaf, but as yet attempts to do so on a practical scale have met with failure.

Agricultural Notes

Many Items Of Interest To The Western Farmer

No foreign wheat has been allowed to be imported into France for milling for domestic purposes since April 16, 1933.
Cornflower or Bachelor's buttons is one of the easiest hardy annuals to grow in Canada. Sown where it has to flower, it will seed itself from year to year.

African sleeping sickness in man and Tsetse fly disease of livestock are caused by a parasite of the blood which causes no disease whatever in these animals.

From many of the feeding tests carried out at the Dominion Experimental Farms and elsewhere, it has been found that barley is an excellent substitute for corn in the feeding of livestock.

The Academy of Sciences, Leningrad, reports that the injection of ethyl alcohol by hypodermic needle into immature tomato fruits still attached to the plant hastened ripening.

Crested wheat grass is an excellent seed producer. The yields vary from 100 to 800 pounds per acre, depending chiefly on the supply of available moisture. The seed is easily harvested and threshed with ordinary farm equipment.

A live animal weighing 1,300 pounds, well finished, will yield a dressed carcass of 700 pounds. Of this, there are only 200 pounds of really prime beef. The prime beef is made up of the sirloin, porterhouse and club steaks, and the prime ribs of the forequarter.

Canadian records show that by using two fans in refrigerator cars, one at each end in diagonally opposite corners, the temperature of fruit can be reduced a matter of 20 degrees in 8 or 10 hours fanning, enabling the fruit to reach the consumer in good condition.

The Viking raspberry, originated at the Vineland, Ont., Horticultural Experiment station from a cross between Cuthbert and Marlboro varieties, has been found highly promising in Michigan according to a report from the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

In a study at the Institute for Feeding Technique at Breslau, Germany, it was discovered that dried sugar beets could be used to make up a large part of the ration for fattening green geese. If skim-milk and young clover or alfalfa were also given.

The provisional estimate of wool production in Australia for the season just closed (1 July, 1933, to 30 June, 1934) is 950,000,000 lbs. (greasy basis), a decrease of 111,000,000 lbs. on the estimate for the 1932-33 season. Next season's production is likely to show a fairly substantial increase.

Shading with reinforced cheesecloth having a thread count of 22 by 22 in experiments at Cornell University increased the length of stem and size of flower of all varieties. Asfer, chrysanthemum, snapdragons, calendulas, sweet peas and dahlias were among the most benefited. Insect injury was decreased.

Of the 676 pedigree swine registered during the month of June by the Canadian National Records and approved by the Dominion Minister of Agriculture, 531 were Yorkshire; 63 Berkshire; 45 Tamworth; 22 Chester White; 4 Poland China, and 1 Duroc Jersey. The registrations of pedigree horses numbered 251, of which 102 were Percherons; and of the 2,967 cattle registered, 1,032 were Ayrshire. Other registrations were 414 sheep; 28 foxes; 661 dogs; 1 poultry, and 11 goats (7 Toggenburg and 4 Saanen).

Famous Geologist Dies

Heat Prostration Overcomes American Savant In China
Rev. Stephen Richards, internationally known American geologist, died suddenly from heat prostration while investigating recent anthropological discoveries in Shantung.

A fellow of the American Geological Society, Richards during the last year had headed the department of physics at the Catholic University at Peking, China. He was a member of the Society of the Divine Word. Victims of the Chinese heat wave were five Tibetan members of the entourage of the Pachen Lama, who were travelling to Peking on a special train.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

JULY 29
MICAHIA SPEAKS THE TRUTH

Golden text: "What the Lord saith unto me, that will I speak," Kings 22:14.
Lesson: 1 Kings 22.
Devotional Reading: Psalm 119: 9-16.

Explanations And Comments

Ahab and Jehoshaphat Allied Against Syria 7-14. For three years, from the time of the covenant made with Ben-hadad, king of Syria, whom the Israelites had so severely defeated (1 Kings 20:26-34), there had been peace between the Northern Kingdom of Israel and the Kingdom of Syria.

Meanwhile Israel and Judah had become friendly, as proved by the marriage of Athaliah, the daughter of Ahab, king of Israel, and Jehoram, the son of Jehoshaphat, king of Judah. It is thought that Judah had become a vassal of Israel, for in our chapter to-day and again later (2 Kings 18:17-18) the king of Judah is seen aiding the king of Israel in the latter's wars, in which Judah herself had no interest.

Ahab reminded his followers that Ramoth in Gilead (east of the Jordan and north of the Jabbok) had belonged to their kingdom but had been seized by the Syrians. After Israel had defeated Ben-hadad, king of Syria, the latter had promised to restore to Israel the cities which his father had seized. "This promise he made," Ramoth-gilead is ours, and we are still, and take it not out of the hand of the king of Syria," cried Ahab.

Ahab and the Prophets of Israel, verses 5, 6. It was after Jehoshaphat had promised that Ahab that he would be with them in the war, 2 Chronicles 18:3, that he asked Ahab whether he agreed that Jehoshaphat would deliver the city into Ahab's hands.

Ahab and Micalah, verses 7-28. Jehoshaphat would make assurance doubly sure and asked if there were not yet some other prophet. There was Micalah, the son of Imnah, Ahab's brother, but he hated Micalah, for he always prophesied evil. Jehoshaphat wished to have him summoned, nevertheless, and Ahab yielded.

The two kings in royal robes were sitting on their thrones on the broad open space before the gateway of Samaria, the usual place for public assemblies; before them were all the prophets prophesying the defeat of the Syrians. One of them, named Zedekiah, had made horns of iron and was declaring that with these the Syrians would be consumed, when Micalah appeared. The messenger who had gone for him urged him to prophesy good even as all the other prophets had done, but Micalah had stoutly asserted that he would prophesy only that which Jehovah told him.

When Micalah approached the two kings Ahab asked him, "Shall we to Ramoth-gilead to battle, or shall we forbear?" "Go up and prosper, and Jehovah will deliver it into the hand of the king," said Micalah, ironically repeating the words of the four hundred. But when Ahab sternly said "How many times shall I advise thee that thou speak unto me nothing but the truth in the name of Jehovah?" Micalah then told of a vision he had had, of the tribes of Israel scattered on the hills of Gilead like sheep who had lost their shepherd. And he heard a voice saying, "Thou has no master; let them return to thee in peace," 2 Kings 18:16. "Did I not tell you," said Ahab to Jehoshaphat, "that he would prophesy evil?" In that vision, Micalah continued, he saw God enthroned in heaven surrounded by his host, debating with them as to who should cause the Jews to go to Gilead to be slain. And one said on this manner and another said on that manner.

Ahab and Ahab's army, verses 29-36. Ahab asked Jehoshaphat to wear his royal robes into battle, the King of Judah refused. With strict orders to kill the king of Israel, the chariots pursued Jehoshaphat, but he was not the king of Israel. A bow "drawn at a venture" pierced between the joints of the armor Ahab was wearing, and gave him his death wound.

Finest Organ In World
Has Been Rebuilt For Albert Hall
In London
It is claimed for the organ which has now been rebuilt for the Albert Hall, London, that it is the finest of its class in the world. The rebuilding of the old instrument, begun seven years ago, has been carried out on the most lavish scale. The weight of the instrument is nearly 175 tons, and it occupies 65,000 cubic feet of space. There are 176 draw-tubes, 10,493 speaking pipes and four stopboards. Two electric motors, one of 10 h.p. and one of 5 h.p. drive the blowers which supply wind up to 10-inch pressure. Two 8 h.p. motors drive the rotary compressors which supply wind up to 30-inch pressure. Eighty miles of electric cable is used in connection with the blowing apparatus. It will cost £200 a year to keep the organ tuned.

When lost in the woods, a person walks in a circle to the right; the first circle is large, the next one a bit smaller, and each subsequent circle a bit smaller than the one preceding it.

Memorial Church In Baghdad Is Proposed

To Honor British Killed In Mesopotamia During War

An appeal for $20,000 to build a "Mesopotamian Memorial Church" in Baghdad is signed by the Archbishop of Canterbury, Sir Francis Humphrys, British ambassador in Baghdad, and others.

The building which has been used as a church since 1921 was originally a Turkish guardhouse, and will shortly have to be demolished owing to town-planning developments, and the construction of a steel bridge across the River Tigris. The British community in Baghdad, numbering some 400, is anxious for a permanent church, and a site has been acquired.

It is suggested the new church should be built as a memorial to the 41,115 British lives sacrificed in Mesopotamia during the war, and to those killed in Iraq. The building would include a memorial shrine containing a book inscribed with the names of those British men and women who gave their lives on Mesopotamian soil.

New Treatment For Arthritis

Paraffin Bath Makes Application Of Greater Heat Possible

Bathing rheumatic joints in hot paraffin is a valuable means of treating these conditions in arthritic patients. Dr. Bernard Langdon Wyatt, of Tucson, Arizona, has reported to the American Congress of Physical Therapy.

The paraffin bath enables the physician to apply greater heat to the painful joints than is possible with solutions, packs, fomentos, or radiant heat. Dr. Wyatt explained that the paraffin bath consists of a thin insulating space formed between the patient's skin and the inner layer of the paraffin coating. The insulating space helps the patient to endure very high temperatures. The high temperature causes an increased supply of blood to the affected part, which relieves the pain and stiffness and enables the patient to move his joints more freely.

Convertible berths, very much like railroad sleeping sections, are provided on some of the air line passenger planes.

OCCASIONAL WIFE

By EDNA ROSS WEBSTER
Author of "Joretta," "Lipstick Girl," etc.

SYNOPSIS

Camilla, Hoyt and Peter Anson, young and in love, marry secretly, deciding to live their own lives apart until Peter is able to provide for his wife. Peter is a young, struggling sculptor trying to win a competition for a scholarship abroad and Camilla is the adopted daughter of a wealthy family. She is not to inherit money when she comes of age and so is studying commercial art in the hope of landing an agency job. After a party at an exclusive club when the rest of the members of the party go in a cabaret to continue the party, Peter and Camilla slip off to the beach by themselves and fall asleep on the sand. When they wake it is early morning and Peter and another boy are standing near them. This makes it necessary for Camilla to announce before the party that she and Peter are married. Camilla urges Peter to accept some of her earnings to help him along, but Peter refuses and they quarrel. After Camilla has gone from the studio, Peter calls and persuades Peter to accept a loan of $1,000. Peter finances his exhibit and asks Avis and Camilla for suggestions as to a name for it. Camilla suggests "Eager Youth," and "Inspiration." Peter adopts the latter title and Camilla, heartless goes to Peter's studio for quiet alone time. Peter and Avis follow later, and as the lights are turned on, see the statue has been shattered to pieces. Camilla accuses Camilla of doing this, and Camilla, stunned by the disaster and hurt and horrified by the accusation, faints.

At Camilla's suggestion, Peter enters as his exhibit a statue of a sculptured especially for her as a wedding gift. They named it "Land of Hope." Camilla's advertising campaign was a success from the beginning, and it was arranged to have radio broadcasts, in addition to newspaper advertising. Camilla to both write the "Tiny Tots" stories and to deliver them over the radio.

(Now Go On With The Story)

CHAPTER LIII

It was Avis who first learned the news, even before Peter himself. She had arranged with John Danforth that he should deliver the result of the committee vote immediately. To Peter Anson was awarded the Paris scholarship.

Avis was speechless with surprise, much as she had planned and hoped for that very thing. But those plans and hopes had done a little to face on the night when "Inspiration" was destroyed, and she had been progressing steadily toward another goal since then.

"You wouldn't jest with me, Uncle John?" she asked incredulously.

"Of course not, child. But I will admit that my vote must have been the deciding factor, because he won by just one point. The nude figure 'Flight' by someone named Nels Nelson, was his best rival, but I can honestly assure you that it wouldn't have been my choice had it not been done by a cannibal in the South Seas. In my opinion, the immigrant group was far better, and one of the two best. So I do hope that you are happy about it, my dear."

"So happy that I am sending you a kiss over the wire, to tell you I see you. Get it?" jubilantly. "And now, I must tell Peter. Thanks a lot for telling me, Uncle John."

terribly sure that you hadn't a chance, darling. Oh, Peter, isn't it just too wonderful?"

"Not too wonderful to me," he drew a long breath of satisfaction, beginning to realize that his fondest dream had come true. "Now you just watch your husband make good. Nothing is going to stop me, not if I know it. I am going to work as I've never worked before! Think of it, Camilla—Despense, the Trocadero, all the masters and masters of the world to study with and work from. Paris! the mecca of art and artists!"

"I'm so glad for you, dear Peter!" she said softly and earnestly, then a wistful tone crept into her voice. "But—Paris—is so far away from me." With an effort she smiled as if she were joking. She would not make Peter feel wretched about leaving her. She had to be gallant about it. She had made this very provision, herself, when she married Peter, that if he had the good fortune to go to Paris, she would wait at home for him and take care of herself. How simple an obligation the last was going to be—but ah! the waiting!

His face sobered, also. "I know. Always something to cloud up a blue sky," impatiently.

"We'll just have to ride over the cloud like good sports, and come out in the sunshine again to make the most of it," she encouraged him with the gravest danger, while her heart yearned to hold him with her.

"If I were any good, I should manage to do enough to take us both," he began tentatively.

"And worry about your double obligation until you couldn't make the most of your precious money?" he would have abroad. No, Peter, you will go to Paris just as you would have, just as you would have had we not married. You will go free, unhampered with obligations, free to give every bit of your time and yourself to your work. You will take my love with you and our memories, and you will return to me a bigger, better man," she managed to keep her voice firm and practical.

"Well," he admitted, "I'd be all kinds of a thief to drag you away from your work now, when everything is breaking big for you and you are earning more than I'll be able to for a couple of years, at least—perhaps, ever."

Again, he had turned her generous contribution of her happiness toward his career, back to a selfish desire to proceed with her own success and its reward. It hurt her cruelly, but she reasoned that if it were the only way to relieve Peter of his sense of obligation to her, that was the way to leave it. There was no way to convince him that she would rather live wretchedly with him in Paris, or anywhere, than to enjoy the fruits of her own achievements, alone. Besides, if he needed help, she wanted to be able to extend that help—if he became ill, or any of the unexpected misfortunes which might develop.

Paris—three thousand miles away—separated by a bottomless void, a costly journey, a world of differences. What an eternity that year was going to be—if it ever did come to an end! But there was one minute consolation which encouraged her. Peter alone would be three thousand miles away from Avis, not across the hall. It wasn't that she doubted Peter, but a man was so helpless at the mercy of a woman like Avis.

In Self Defence

"Stop the elevator" cried a woman in a Montreal departmental store. "I've been pinched." The woman fled as the elevator stopped at the next floor, gingerly stroking her leg. "She wasn't pinched," a little girl told her mother as the remaining passengers roared with laughter, "she was standing on my foot, so I bit her."

"Friends," he said, "you've seen this here melted iron running out of a furnace, ain't you all, white-hot sizzling and hissing? Well—"

Progress in Surgery

General Anaesthetic No Longer Necessary For Major Operations The following article, by H. H. Bashford, M.D., appeared recently in the Nineteenth Century and After:

During the last twenty years there have been very considerable strides in our knowledge of local anaesthetics—in the science of inducing an anaesthesia, that is to say, sufficient for major operations without the necessity of administering a general anaesthetic. It has been found, for instance, that by injecting a suitable solution of some anaesthetic drug into the sheath of the spinal cord the roots of both entering and departing nerves—sensory and motor, respectively—can be sufficiently affected to produce an entire loss of relaxation over the whole area of the body below the point of injection. For operations below the waist this has been a development of wide application. It has enabled these to be carried out upon persons suffering from diseased hearts or lungs, in which the administration of a general anaesthetic would have been attended with the gravest danger, even if it had been justifiable at all.

And worry about your double obligation until you couldn't make the most of your precious money?" he would have abroad. No, Peter, you will go to Paris just as you would have, just as you would have had we not married. You will go free, unhampered with obligations, free to give every bit of your time and yourself to your work. You will take my love with you and our memories, and you will return to me a bigger, better man," she managed to keep her voice firm and practical.

THE RHYMING OPTIMIST

By Aline Michaelis

TO-DAY

To-day means beginning afresh; With the blessing of dawn Comes life, budding out like the east, And the old things are gone.

The old things, forgotten, depart, Be they bitter or sweet, From out of the thought and the life What is past must retreat.

To-day bears a gift in its hands And the other coast brings And its light, has shed torches of hope Like the promise of spring.

In the past were there sorrows and Was there old tyranny? Then look up and be glad and march For to-day sets you free!

Huge Birthday Cake Baked For Centenary Of Australian Cities And Held 100 Sovereigns

A great birthday cake was made and baked to mark the centenary of Victoria and the capital city of Melbourne, Australia. Into it went ten tons of the finest products of the state of Victoria, including these items: four and one-half tons frank; three and one-half tons almonds, one and one-half tons butter, one and one-half tons flour, and 36,000 eggs.

Early in the celebrations the cake was cut into a quarter of a million pieces, each one and one-half ounces, and were sold at a nominal price in sealed boxes. One hundred specially minted golden sovereigns were placed in the cake, and every buyer had a chance of winning a rare coin estimated to be worth $500 as a memento after the celebration. Near the heart of the city Birthday Cake building was erected, a replica of the cake itself, 50 feet high and 300 feet in circumference, surmounted by 100 candles.

The use of the soybean alone for ensilage is not recommended but high quality ensilage has been produced by a combination of soybeans and corn, mixed in the proportion of about one part soybeans and three parts corn. The two crops can be grown together or they may be produced separately and mixed at the time of filling the silo. Harvesting will be easier and the mixture better obtained where the two crops are grown separately. — Soybeans pamphlet, Dominion Department of Agriculture.

Playing Safe Of course there is nothing to the old superstition about bad luck attending ships that sail on Friday the 13th—but no passenger liners put out from Montreal harbor this Friday, July 13. They feel the same way about it in the Old Country and no passenger ships sailed that day for Canadian ports.

Little Helps For This Week

"My meat is to do the will of Him that sent me and to finish His work." John 4:34.

I am glad to think I am not bound to make the world go right. But only to discover and to do. With cheerful heart, the work that God appoints. I will trust in Him. That He can hold His own; and I will take His will, above the work He sendeth me, To be my chiefest good. —Jean Ingelow

Do not object if you feel your duties are too insignificant. "Whatever they hand useth to do, do it with all thy might." If you have brothers, sisters, a father or mother, pray earnestly what claim does it upon you on behalf of each, and consider it as the one thing needful to pay them more and more honestly and nobly what you owe. What matter how miserable one is if "they can do that"—Thomas Carlyle.

House Cost Sixteen Cents

Cash Outlay Of Serbian Family Was For Glass

Zadruga in Serbian means a big family—where brothers and cousins have not divided the family property, but lead a community life, under the leadership usually of the oldest member of the family. These zadruzas are rapidly disappearing in modern times, but there are still some left.

The members of one such zadruza have recently performed a feat which has spread their fame all over Yugoslavia. They have built a house which has cost them (excepting the cost of their own labor) only 16 cents in American money. This is the zadruza of the family of Kujundzich in the village of Leova Brda, near Potcha, Herzegovina.

As the original house of this zadruza was too small for all the members of the family, it was decided to build a new house. As funds were short, they decided to build everything themselves. Using the stone from their own quarry, they made the slabs, then they cut the necessary wood. Lime which they themselves had made was used. The house was covered with wooden planks and wooden pegs were used, which said they made themselves. Their only cash outlay was made when they bought glass for the windows, and that cost them eight dinars, or 16 cents.

Prove Theory False

French Savant Says Einstein's Theory Of Relativity Unsound

Professor Emmanuël Carvallo, the French savant, created a stir in scientific circles with the announcement Prof. Albert Einstein's theory of relativity has definitely been proved false.

The Einstein theory, said Prof. Carvallo in an article in the Revue Scientifique, is based on Prof. Michelson's principle of the invariance of the speed of light, a principle the French professor does not believe to be established.

In his article the professor claims this principle has been proved nonexistent by 200,000 experiments made in the United States by Michelson's pupil, Morley, and by others made independently by Ernest Shackleton, director of the Paris observatory.

Restored Old Castle

Chief Of Maclean Clan Kept His Boyhood Vow

Sir Fitzroy Donald Maclean, the 26th hereditary chief of the clan Maclean who just enters his 100th year has been head of the clan for over a half a century. Eighty-three years ago his father took him on a yachting cruise in the Hebrides. They visited the ruins of Duart Castle which had been lost to his family for more than a century.

The boy vowed that one day he would restore the castle of the Macleans. That pledge he fulfilled 63 years later, when Duart, captured from the Macleans in the 45's returned to its ancient ownership. The event was celebrated by a grand gathering of the Macleans in Mull—London Daily Telegraph.

Another Soviet Experiment

Spring Wheat Has Been Planted Within Arctic Circle

Spring sowing has been completed in the world's most northerly wheat belt, the only grain producing region on the earth within the arctic circle.

It is the Yakutia region, in the vast cold plains of northeastern Siberia, populated, ten years ago, by wandering hunters and fishermen, but now the scene of the Soviet's principal experiments in Arctic farming.

More than 188,000 acres of spring wheat has been planted there this year, in addition to 20,000 acres of winter grain, the first winter wheat crop so far attempted.

Yakutia boasts the coldest winters in the world, but the summers are hot and the days nearly twenty-two hours long. Basing the experiment on the calculation that the average monthly summer temperature there is 57 degrees Fahrenheit as compared with only 48 degrees in the Norwegian grain regions, the Soviet put down a first experimental sowing of 67,000 acres of wheat in 1922.

In 1931 the planted area had increased to 188,000 acres. This year the acreage has again been increased and the grain sown earlier.

Wheat and barley are grown in Norway as far north as 70 degrees N. Lat., and in Canada up to the edge of the Arctic circle. Part of Yakutia, in the Kolumbia river valley, is within the circle itself. Besides grain, potatoes are grown there successfully.

New Type Of Machine

Dragonfly 'Plane Is Entirely Dip And Crash Proof

A new and revolutionary type of flying machine, the "Dragonfly" aeroplane, claimed by the inventor to be the aeronaute sensation of the century, has been constructed by the Austrian aviation expert, Ramund Nimfuehr.

This flying machine is not dependent upon a screw or propeller, but its flight is rather similar to that of the dragonfly, or the humming bird. The machine is entirely tip and crash proof, it requires no minimum motor impulse, minimum expenditure of fuel, and can glide as a bird does, and even remain for some time practically at a standstill in the air, according to Nimfuehr.
